OVERVIEW

Water is essential to living things in this world. However many members of the Malaysian public and even some decision makers in the public and private sectors still lack awareness in conserving and improving our water resources management for continued water sustainability and security. Hence ENSEARCH Malaysia, has taken the initiative to organize the Water & Water Resources Forum. This forum will enable policy makers and stake holders to come together to share their perspectives to promote awareness and commitment towards improving the status quo in the management of water resources in Malaysia.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Industry Players
- Policy Makers
- Services Sector
- Environmental Practitioners
